The Jessup Grain Drill!

Improved and Made by

R. J. RICHARDSON.

THE satisfaction which the Richardson Drill gave in 1802 has induced inc to Make Double the Number for 1863.

Adapted to the Peculiarities of this Soil, which is very difficult to till.

More than three hundred of these drills were used to this vicinity last spring, and it is universally conceded that the Richardson Drill is PERFECTLY ACCURATE

in the quantity of Seed Sown per Acre, and that it is easily adjusted to any quantity desired. It is also conceded that the Richardson Drill is the Lightest Bruft and the Ensiest for the Team of any Drill yet introduced.

The drills of 1863 are readily changeable from double to single rank. The points are, longer, sharper, and heavier than those of 1862, which render them better adopted to the hard and crusty soif of early fall plowing. Notwithstanding the Large Advance on Material we have concluded to offer our drills at the

as in 1862, which is as follows: 9 touth, $70; 10 tooth, $75; 11 tooth, $80; 12 tooth, $35; 18 tooth, $90.
To these who know the Richardson Drill it is needless to asy any bling. Of these who do not know them, we would ask an examination, and refer to any one who has used them. Our drills are now

READY FOR EXHIBITION. They are made at the well-known

Rock River Iron Works

of Harris, Guild, Angel & Tyler. The character of their work is well known. I would like everybody to examine these drills. To those wishing to purchase drills, I would say that I guarantee their church, we have heard King Pharaoh spok-an of in terms of disrespect. The preachers all seem to have a pick at him, and especially at his heart, which, if you would believe them was as hard as granite. They always tell one side of the story; let us give the other:

the Pharaoh, about whose heart we hear so much, was on the throne, the Egyptians and ambrosia, which recipe he surreptiously copied from Juno's receipt book, accordants of Abraham. These slaves were scendants of Abraham. These slaves were and Porter, improving on the idea, conceived multiplying very rapidly; were in the main contented and were "better off" by far vine materials, and producing and effable than the most of us. Pherson and the Egyptians were much attached to them," providing for them," made all their laws, and they had nothing in the world to do but work, eat, and be jolly. Their masters had all the trouble.

But they were multiplying too fast, so well off were they, and Pharaoh was induced to order that after a certain day all the male slave children born should be looks bad, and the preachers have made the most of it; but let us consider his mo-tive. It was to make a slave insurrection have heard of St. Domingo. Stump ora-tors sometimes tell us of St. Domingo. but cut throats, burn houses, ravish their of the petrod, whose name I have forgot-dusky mistressess, and cun pitckforks ten. Heartless and ignorant persons, en-through the curly headed children of their lively misconceiving the spirit in which the good masters. Who will say that in view of all these possible horrors, it was not but just to send the little Hebrew slave boys of one or two generations to heaven where they would be better oif? It is true, too, that whipping and beatng even to death, was rather common, and hat women even were not spared; but to offset this they had plenty of leaks, onions, and other savory things to eat, and all they could do. They had no concern of mind; no schools to attend, no laws to make, no cares to furrow their faces, nothing to do eat and be jolly. We are certain that if a correspondent of the London "Times" had taken a boat ride on the Nile in those days, he would have falled for language to describe the happy condition of the chivalrous Egyptian masters and their contented slaves. But, alas, they were waked from their learning. He was a kind of Yankee agitator. He once saw an Egyptian beating a Hebrew slave, and instead of helping to subdue the slave, as he should have done, he smote the master so violently that he died from the blow. For this cause he was obliged to run away. But he did not stay away. He heard something out of a burnng bush one day, which inflamed his aboition notions, (fanatics are always having visions) and so he went back to higypt; and when he got back, every thing was going well. The country was flourishing.— The people were united. Taxes were low and trade prosperous. If Pharoah had hung him up at once, a great deal of trou-ble would have been avoided. But he did not hang him, and the trouble began.— Moses insisted on the immediate and unconditional emancipation of all the Hebrews. Think of it! Slavery was an old institution, the slaves were happy, and worth about A general emollient expression seems to $200,000,000! How could Moses ask such glide o'er his face, and smooth the frown a sacrifice of property? He claimed that God had sent him—that the Israelites were oppressed, and all that; but Moses was a to dawn. He lifts the glass once more to minister; what right had be to meddle with his lips, heaves a sigh, and puts it down. minister; what right had be to meddle with slavery in Egypt, a parely "political ques-tion?" The other preachers in Egypt were faithful to Ammon and let slavery alone. How much better it would have been if Moses had done as our American Tract boldly answers in the affirmative. Society, and several of our popular churches have done—preached the Bible, and kept out of the dirty water of politics. But nothing would satisfy him but emancipation. Of course the pride of the Egyptians was touched. They were a chivalric mce, with hotter southern blood than fires the Carolinian's heart. They knew their rights. To show their contempt for Moses, they in-creased the taxes of their slaves, and whipsed them harder. The Hebrews themselves entreated Moses to go away and let them alone. But he went on, and kept up the excitement until the whole land was con-valsed. Millions of dollars worth of grain and stock were sacrificed, and there was mourning for the "first born" in every house. At length Pharach was over-persuaded, and, like our weak-minded President, he issued an edict of emancipation, and away the slaves went on masse. But after the had gone, his reason returned. There was a reaction in the public mind. The people failed to endorse the proclamation.— Pharaoh's heart yearned for his poor slaves, who had no experience, and could not take care of themselves; and so he started after them with a great army, and had it not been for a sudden rise of water, he would,

in all probability, have accomplished his humane designs. But the water in the Red Sea got too deep. COST OF WAR .- From 1683 to 1816, England was more than halfithe time (sixty-seven years) engaged in war. The war of the Spanish succession cost $300,000,000 in eleven years; the seven years' war cost $500,000,000, and that of the French revolution, $2,320,000,000. When at war with Napoleon, from 1803 to 1816, England raised by taxes the enormous sum of $3, 655,000,000, and by loans the further sum of $1,940,000,000—an average of over $1,322,000 per day. Apropos of Porter, whose name I have just taken in vain: I heard a good college story the other day, which I may as well Ever since we were old enough to go to set down here. Porter is an institution in hurch, we have heard King Pharach spok. Cambridge. He is a person of varied necomplishments, and keeps 'a house of call. None like him to brew histop, or mingle a shandy geff. But his chef d' œuvre is ilp. It is is reported among the students that Ganymede, when dying—it is all nonsense about Ganymede being immortal—he left Jupiter's service, married Hebe, set up in Pharaoh was king of Egypt, in Africa, a country once celebrated for its science, its corn crops, and its stone masons. When old age—it is reported that Ganymede left old age—it is reported that Gany vine materials, and producing and effable beverage—something which should com-bine the elements of supernal drink—a harmony of solid and fluid, to which each element should contribute its celestial flavors. He carried out the idea. He gled the ambrosia and nectar, and all Olympus turned pale with envy for the re-suit was flip.

With such a classic origin, it was not to be wondered at that under graduates, who drowned or strangled like kittens. This are notorious for their love of mythological matters, should find themselves attracted to Porter's and there refreshed their reminiscences of Olympus with draughts of the impracticable. Now, we all know what a divine beverage. In fact, such was their borrible thing a slave insurrection is. We devotion to his branch of classical study, have heard of St. Domingo. Stump orainspired even to the Pythenic pitch of be Pharaoh thought his bratakalaves might be ing unintelligible in their speech, that the incited by some miserable frantic like John matter attracted the attention of the presiincited by some miserable frantic like John matter attracted the attention of the president to rise, and then what would they do tirely misconceiving the spirit in which the under graduates visited Porter's, reported to this worthy person that the students were in the habit of getting drunk every night on flip. It must be seen to.

The president put on his most authoritative wig and sternest countenance and sallies out to blow up the classic Porter for leading his students astray. First of all, in order to speak more decisively, that he will taste this noxious beverage with his own lips. Then there can be no mistake With much dignity he onters Porters's. He interrogates Porter.

The discreet Porter romained silent.

"Make me a—a flip," at length says the venerable president, still frowning and in-

Presently a superhuman flip, with an aromatic foam creaming over the edge of the goblet, is the result of this effort. He hands it respectfully, and with some auxiety, to the president, on whose face judicial thunder clouds have been gathering. The president tastes it gloomily. He pauses. Another sip. A Victory over the Gold Gamblers.

Our dispatches from New York say that gold was sold in the street for 50 per cent premium, to day. We presume it went even lower than that, as private advices say it would not bring over 40. Congress has achieved a victory over the money changers at which all will rejoice except the speculators, and no one has any sympathy for them.

Adjournment of Congress.

The thirty-seventh congress ended by limitation, yesterday. The closing days of this congress were signalized by the passage of six of the most important measures ever adopted by any congress, viz: The bill placing the militia of the loyal states under the control of the President; that providing a national banking system; a finance bill, authorizing the Secretary of the Tressury to borrow money or issue legal and next fiscal year; the bill amending by existing laws upon numerous articles;

We shall have draft after draft, and millions upon millions of money borrowed, unless i we take hold with more earnestness; unnow to see this done. The assponsibility ! is wholly with the President.

Peoria Mail, (and of one or two other jour nals whose position upon the question of Union or disunion is perhaps not yet fully determined) that the conscription law compels only poor men to enter the army, is ridiculous. It will be seen, by reading the clause in relation to substitutes, that the fine provided for exemption is not fixed at any particular sum, but it shall not exceed three hundred dollars. The drafted man is allowed to procure his own substitute, at any price he may agree upon, or, if ! he prefers, the government will provide one for him at a price not exceeding $300. Did not the law contain this limitation, the price of substitutes would, in all probabili. others, refused in 1861 to units with the re ty, range much higher than $300. Mr. Trumbull, quick as a flash, instantly got the floor and moved to proced to the consideration of another bill, which was put beyond the reach of the minority. It vas not until the consideration of this had been begun that Powell and his fellow filat arms in closing all the liquor shops, at midnight, drunkenness would have been much greater. As it was it was enough to defeat the fillibusters. This morning they made a desperate effort to regain their lost ground by seeking to amend the journal and reconsider the vote, but all in vain .-The bill was considered by the republicans as of the atmost importance. Without it Lincoln, Cameron, Seward and Stanton and others would have been fairly plaster ed over with suits, and popper over distoyal persons might have been hearly lost. The house is now fill bustering on the bill for organizing the judiciary of this District. The republicans, however, have the advantage, as this bill must be disposed of before the bill for miscellaneous appropriations can be touched. In this is the provision for extra mileage, which the democrats are as auxious for as republicans. They can't vote for it, however, till the judiciary bill is passed, and are likely thus to force the democrate into yielding. The bill for a brauch mint at Nevada ha passed. • In the house, Hon. I. N. Arnold of Illi

In one of the assay offices under the and an utterance which will live in the government, one-fourteenth of one per cent, I think, is allowed for waste on all the gold that passes through; but, last year, the amount which remained in the hands of the director of that office was about $80,000, which, nocording to the letter of the law, belonged to him. He however, went aback to the spirit of the law, and though the law allowed him to pocket the $80,000, he returned it to the government. And that is not all. I do not know that the govern-ment knew it. I know it only by having been told it by an assistant of his.

The author of this statement pertinently added : Now, how many are there of you who will vote that this man go to the lunatic asylum? And how many are there of you that, looking upon him, feel rising up within you, unforced and unconscious, a wish to worship him?

This is a case of love of right for right's sake. If anything could add to the horror of the occurrence, it may be found in the fact that the husband and father, Mr. Fraser, was absent from the city at the time, having left town yesterday, as is supposed, to attend to some business in Hamilton, Canada. He is a lawyer, a gentlemen of means, and highly connected in the old country. A telegraphic despatch has been sent him, informing him of the melancholy facts, and he will probably be heard from during the day.

The thirty-seventh congress ended by limitation, yesterday. The closing days of this congress were signalized by the passage of six of the most important measures ever adopted by any congress, viz: The bill placing the militia of the loyal states led into the maelstrom of disunion, and under the control of the President; that providing a national backing system; a endeavoring to bring upon the north the finance bill, authorizing the Secretary of same fate. the Treasury to borrow money or issue legal tender notes for the service of the present and next fiscal year; the bill amending the internal revenue law, which modifies, and in many cases, increases the tax levied by existing laws upon numerous articles; the bill releasing state prisoners, which provides that the President may, in the recess of congress, suspend the writ of habens corpus, during the rebellion; and the bill indemnifying the President and other officers for making arrests without warrant.

In most respects we believe this congress has done its duty, though exceedingly tardy in some of its acts. Its financial measures cannot now be judged, as they are not clearly known and defined, but we understand that the banks are taxed heavily, and that the Secretary of the Treasury has the Congress having provided the supplies to carry on the war for the suppression of the rebellion, it remains with the President to execute its acts. The people, through their representatives, have willed that the nation shall be saved-that the integrity of its whole territory shall be preserved-that this shall be done in the shortest possible time, and they have furnished the means. It is to be hoped, therefore, that the President will place the military forces of the country in the hands of generals who really mean to put down the rebellion. He must have seen by this time that it is useless to "throw grass" at the rebels, and that his military commanders who will not Stevenson, who declares that he would rather be beaten by the rebels, if negroes should be among his forces, than to obtain a victory over them, are not the men for the crisis. There are too many such officers whose hearts are with the rebels, who are in the army, and we shall never be wholly successful until they are dismissed. We shall have draft after draft, and millions upon millions of money borrowed, unless we take hold with more earnestness: unless we are determined to use every means necessary to save the republic. We hope now to see this done. The sesponsibility is wholly with the President.

The $300 Exemption Clause in the Conscription Act.

The Chicago Post does a good act in explaining the character of the $300 exemption clause in the conscription law-a provision which the copperhead journals are using to produce dissatisfaction with the law and opposition to it. The Post says:

POLTROONERY.-The allegation of the Peoria Mail, (and of one or two other jour nals whose position upon the question of Union or disunion is perhaps not yet fully determined) that the conscription law compels only poor men to enter the army, It will be seen, by reading the clause in relation to substitutes, that the fine provided for exemption is not fixed at any particular sum, but it shall not ex cced three bundred dollars. The drafted man is allowed to procure his own substi tute, at any price he may agree upon, or, if he prefers, the government will provide one for him at a price not exceeding $300. Did not the law contain this limitation, the price of substitutes would, in all probability, range much higher than $300. The rich, being able to pay, would bid high, while the poor would be unable to pay the price to which overbidding would raise the substitute market. Thus, instead of being an oppressive provision, the $300 restric tion is actually for the benefit of the poorer

Mr. Rosswell, living near Springfield, in this county, was a week or two since invi-ted to attend one of the lodges of the order on a certain evening. Mr. R., it may be said, is a most worthy man, a local preacher in the M. E. Church, and claims to be a comocrat-meaning, however, the pure sense of the word. He accepted the invitation and went, when the following dialogue Knight—Are you willing to take an oath

Mr. R. was here given to understand that he wasn't wanted any longer. He was told, however, that the order had its origin in the south, was introduced first among the democrats in the army, and by them to the north, and that its object was to "break

NEGRO REGIMENTS: AT NEW ORLEANS. There are now four organized regiments of negroes in the service of the United States in Louisiana. Another will soon be commenced. Probably two full brigades will be raised, completely organized, equipped and drilled within a short time. They will be officered almost entirely by white men. Some of the regiments completed have al ready acquired an excellent profici ncy in The imitative power of the negro enables him to master this in less time than a white man. He is peculiarly sus-ceptible, by nature, to all the pomp and parade of war. If these fellows fight half as well as they execute the manuel, com-pany and battalions movements, they will prove powerful auxiliaries to the Union The first of these regiments is comarmy. The first of these regiments is com-posed of free colored men. It is the same regiment that turned out for the defence of New Orleans, under rebel rule, commanded by Judge Ogden. The others are made up of contrabands.

The experiment has thus far proved sucmated white men would perish, but where the black experiences but little inconvenience; for picket duty, garrisoning railway ines, etc., etc., they will prove invaluable. Now is the time for raising these men, that they may be drilling for active duty next season, when a large part of the forces here will return to the north, at the expiration of nine months for which they are enlisted. Just so far as the army of whites extends ts operations can these negroes be enlisted, brigade after brigade. Wherever a cor poral's guard of colored soldiers is stationed, the slaves become demoralized-that is smitten with a love of freedom and a de sire to play the soldier. Properly man aged, this element will become one chief, if not the most efficient agent for the overthrow of the rebellion. The work has or cannot use more ponderous materials of been well begun here, and is to be vigorwarfare should be promptly laid on the ously prosecuted. The experiment of armshelf. Such fellows as Brigadier General in Louisians and from the perfect success gence of these people here, they will proba-bly prove the best colored soldiers raised in the country.—New Orleans Cor. N. In this city alone, the Daily News, Journal of Commerce, Day Book, and Freeman's Journal, four conspicuous democratic journals, three of them issued daily, were either suppressed outright or refused admission to the mads ha onuse of their violent disloyalty-all this, mind you, in the first six months of the war. The democrats of this state, of Ohio, and others, refused in 1861 to unite with the republicane in the support of the Union war tickets headed by democrats, choosing overwholming defeat rather than the appearance of uniting in appost of the government and the war, though the administration was then doing its utmost to conserve slavery. And there is not the smallest ground of hope that those who were doing their utmost to cripple the administration and the war before they assumed an anti slavery aspect would now be converted to their support by a return to the border state platform.—New York Tribune.

COMPORT FOR OUR PRACE SNEAKS .- The

We all know, indeed, and are happy to know, that some of the north-western states are very sick of this war, heartily disaffected to the Washington government, strongly disposed to sneak out of the debt they have incurred, and to ask alliance, or even union with the confederacy, 'if agreeable.' This is a wholesome state of feeling, and most discouragement in the north western troops.

Last Night's Report.

Washington, Merch 3. Special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.

The Indemnity bill passed this morning in the senate at half past five o'clock, at come bold, and withat not very discreet the close of Bayard's speech. Throughout the night all the democratic senators who were making factious opposition, excepting Bayard, had been so drunk that it was with great difficulty they could keep up their libustering and talking against time. Mr. Powell made an unusually long speech, after which Bayard got the floor, and talked for an hour or two. By this time it was after five o'clock in the morning, and most of the democrats had gone home. The republicans were all on hand. Bayard finally gave way for Powell to make a motion to adjourn, on which the year and nays were called. This being decided in the negative, Powell seemed to expect Bayard to resume his remarks, while Bayard appeared to suppose that Sullsbury was going to take the floor. During the little delay thus caused, Pomeroy, who was temporarily in the chair supports. porarily in the chair, announced that the question was on the report of the confer nce committee on the bill, and before Powell, Saulsbury or Bayard had found out what was going on, the question had been put and the bill passed... Mr. Trumbull, quick as a flash, instantly got the floor and moved to proced to the consideration of another bill, which was carried, and the indemnity bill was thus put beyond the reach of the minority. It was not until the consideration of this had been begun that Powell and his fellow filibusters found out that their drunken stupidity had lost them the game. But for the prompt action of the senate sergeantat-arms in closing all the liquor shops, at midnight, drunkenness would have been much greater. As it was it was enough to defeat the fillibusters. This morning they prade a desperate effort to regain their lost ground by seeking to amend the journal and reconsider the vote, but all in vain .--The bill was considered by the republicans as of the utmost importance. Without it Lincoln, Cameron, Seward and Stanton and others would have been fairly plaster ed over with suits, and popper over disloyal persons might have been nearly lost. The house is now fill-bastering on the bill for organizing the judiciary of this District. The republicans, however, have the advantage, as this bill must be disposed of before the bill for miscellaneous appropriations can be touched. In this is the provision or extra mileage, which the democrats are as anxious for as republicans. They can't vote for it, however, till the judiciary bill is passed, and are likely thus to force the democrats into yielding. The bill for a branch mint at Nevada has Cargo, March 2. Yazoo Pass is supposed to be a success. By it boats would be enabled to reach the rear of Vicksburg, by the Tallahatchie, and perform a most important work in reducing the place. Another rumor had it that the confederates, finding their supplies cut off and rendered fearful of something worse, had evacuated their stronghold; but none of these stories were believed. It is an unorbted fact that the rebels are starving in Vicksburg.

All boats passing up and down the river are now compelled to report at White river and Yazoo Pass.

Legislative Summary.

WEDNESDAY, March 4. SENATE .- Mr. Bohan presented a memoial from Messrs. A. M. Blair, H. H. Hunt, I. C. Loomis and H. W. Stillman, of Ozan see, asking the state to indemnify them for lamages sustained by the anti-draft riot at that place. The amount of property destroyed, as claimed, is as follows:

A. M. Blair, H. H. Hunt, I. C. Loomis, A22.06 2.026.86 H. W. Ssillman. Senator Vilas offered resolutions in favor of appointing commissioners from this to confer with the governments of Canada and Great Britain in regard to opening the St. Luwrence for the transportation of the products of the western states. They are similar to those adopted in Illinois.

Bills were introduced amending chapter

188 of the revised statutes, concerning the state prison, to amend the county superintendent law. The claim of ex Sheriff Lar kin of Milwankee was rejected. Bilis were passed in relation to lands old for taxes, amending the statutes concerning county courts and concerning county courts and county officers. The house resolution to adjourn sine die on the 30th was adopted; also the resolu-tion recommending the promotion of Col. Starkweather of the 1st Wisconsin, after being amended so as to include Col. Bryant of the 12th.

ASSEMBLY. To day is devoted by the house to the pending political resolutions. An afternoon session is held and probably there will be one this evening. It posed to finish their discussion and dispos of them to-day. Speeches had been made by Messrs. Larkin, Bingham, Pope and Sanborn up to four o'clock this afternoon.

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT .-- MC Beecher, in one of his recent sermons, made the following statement :

What do you think of such a thing as this? In one of the assay offices under the government, one-fourteenth of one per cent, I think, is allowed for waste on all the gold that passes through; but, last year, amount which remained in the hands of the director of that office was about $80,000, which, according to the letter of the law belonged to him. He however, went back to the spirit of the law, and though the law allowed him to pocket the $80,000, he returned it to the government. And that is not all. I do not know that the government knew it. I know it only by having been told it by an assistant of his. The author of this statement pertinently added :: Now, how many are there of you who will vote that this man go to the lunatic asylum? And how many are there of you that, looking upon him, feel rising up within yon, unforced and unconscious, a wish to worship him? This is a case of love of right for right's sake. Here is a man that stood in an ungodly city where everybody is scrambling for money, and where money is the ideal image of happiness, and there were eighty thousand dollars which, according to hibe law, he could have put in his pocket, and in two years he could have retired a rich man; and yet he said: " The spirit of the law requires that that should be given back to the government," and gave it back, not for the sake of performing a remarkable deed, but because he thought the thing was right in and of itself. And I would rather ty than twice or four times the eighty thous-

The doors were burst

It is supposed by those who discovered the fire and endeavored to rescue the un-fortunate inmates, that they were smothered in their beds by the smoke, as the bodies were discovered in the remains of the beds on which they elept.

A person who passed the house at about one o'clock this morning, saw a light burn-ing in one of the chambers, and it may be that this was the cause of the fire. Its ori ein will never be known with certainty, as ere was no person in the house other than Mrs. Fraser and the children.

The bodies when discovered were so harred and burned as to render recogni tion impossible, save by the size.—Buffalo Com. Ad., Feb. 27.

GEN. He first impressed me as a very piratical looking divine, and next by his resemblance to $1,486.69 the pictures of Gen. Butler. The sudden 3,791.98 rising from their coffee of vice president and senators, proved him to be a "regular nob." as Disraeli's sponging house waiter would say, and as it happened no less a one than the hero of New Orleans. We have thought of him so long at the St. Charles, dictating ferocious "orders" to secesh women, terrifying the most rampant rabels into abject opedience, that it is quite diffi cult to realize that he is sitting at the next table munching celery in the most Christian and civilized manner possible. He has a fine looking young etalf-officer on one side. on the other sits his stately and distinguish ed looking wife—while vis a vis are two lovely young blondes, his niece and daughter, from the Convent College at Georgetown. #### Adjaurned Club Meeting.

Vegetables for the soldiers before Vicksburg.

ARRY DIFFER VICKIBURO, L February 25th, 1983. In numbers the army here and Helena are sick and dying. In some instances already death has occurred by lack of vegetable diet. In the fifty regiments visited the past week, many have said we have not seen a regetable of any kind for more than Under such circumstances, so far removed from northern air, living and associaction, with the warmth of your last of April, subject to all the difficulties incident to acclimation, with salt food and hard crackers. how can they avoid sickness and death?

As we have gone from tent to tent holding short service and giving each religious reading, often witnessing the tearful eyo, with the hearty "I thank you," and the frequent faint pleading "cant you induce the good folks at home to send us some vegetables," our bearts would have been stone not to have been moved.

The object of this, and kindred articles sent to all the leading newspapers of the north west, is to induce furmers and business men generally to personally and at once interest themselves in a work so humane and so noble, as well as one so directly bearing upon the question of overthrowing the rebellion.

Two thousand barrels are at once needed, and that would give but about one barrel to 70 men. Please bore half a dozen inch augor hole in each head, and so far as possible put onions and cabbage into whiskey barrels, covering with vinegar. Mark distinetly, "Chicago Sanitary Commission." The same commission will send their own agents, and a committee from the Chicago Board of Trade. Yours, for the sick soldiers, K. A. BURNELL, Vogetables seut in rosponso to the above call, from this vicinity, may be left at the grocery store of F. S. Eldred in this city, who will attend to the shipment of the same, free of charge.

A Call to be Heeded.

. It is represented that our brave volunteers before Vicksburg are suffering terribly for the want of vegetables. The apring down there, has fairly opened, and our northern soldiers who have lived all winter upon salt meat and hard bread, without change of food, are laboring under the unwholesome effects of the climate and such a diet, to a degree that threatens to destroy the efficiency of the army. An appeal comes to us for aid. Send us vegetable food or we die, is the cry of our noble and self-sacrificing soldiers. The sanitary commissions, and the state agents whom our governor has sent there, all unite in declaring that relief is needed now. We trust, therefore, that every one who can spare something that is needed will respond to this call, without delay. Attention is called to the communication of Rev. Mr. Burnell, in another column, and also to the fact that Mr. F. S. Lidred, will receive and forward all donations of vegetables, free of charge. No one, need be restrained from giving in consequence of the small quantity he may be able to spare; bring what you can afford, if it be but one cabbage, or a jar of pickles, or a bushel of potatoes, and it will be put into larger packages and forwarded. Act at once and don't wait for any body else to begin. What one person may give, may save the life of a soldier.

ARMY DEFORM VICESBURG, 1 February 25th, 1983.

In numbers the army here and Helena are sick and dying. In some instances already death has occurred by lack of vegetable diet. In the fifty regiments visited the past week, many have said we have not seen a vegetable of any kind for more than two months.

Under such circumstances, so far removed from northern air, living and association, with the warmth of your last of April, subject to all the difficulties incident to acclimation, with salt food and hard crackers, how can they avoid sickness and death?

As we have gone from tent to tent holding short service and giving each religious reading, often witnessing the tearful eye, with the hearty "I thank you," and the frequent faint pleading "cant you induce the good folks at home to send us some vegetables," our hearts would have been stone not to have been moved,

The object of this, and kindred articles sent to all the leading newspapers of the north west, is to induce farmers and business men generally to personally and at once interest themselves in a work so humane and so noble, as well as one so directly bear ing upon the question of overthrowing the rebellion.

Two thousand barrels are at once needed, and that would give but about one barrel to 70 men. Please bore half a dozen inch auger hole in each head, and so far as possible put onions and cabbage into whiskey barrels, covering with vinegar. Mark distinetly, "Chicago Sanitary Commission." The same commission will send their own agents, and a committee from the Chicago Board of Trade.

Yours, for the sick soldiers, K. A. BURNELL.

Vegetables sent in response to the above call, from this vicinity, may be left at the grocery store of F. S. Eldred in this city, who will attend to the shipment of the same, free of charge.

A Call to be Heeded.

It is represented that our brave volumteers before Vicksburg are suffering terribly for the want of vegetables. The spring down there, has fairly opened, and our northern soldiers who have lived all winter upon salt meat and hard bread, without change of food, are laboring under the unwholesome effects of the climate and such a diet, to a degree that threatens to destroy the efficiency of the army. An appeal Among our Domestic Stock may be found all the best es to us for aid. Send us vegetable food or we die, is the cry of our noble and self-sacrificing soldiers. The sanitary commissions, and the state agents whom our governor has sent there, all unite in declaring that relief is needed now. We trust, therefore, that every one who can spare something that is needed will respond to this call, without delay. Attention is called to the communication of Rev. Mr. Burnell, in another column, and also to the fact that Mr. F. S. Llured, will receive and forward all donations of vegetables, free of ~ charge.

No one need be restrained from giving in consequence of the small quantity he may be able to spare; bring what you can afford, if it be but one cabbage, or a jar of pickles, or a bushel of potatoes, and it will be put into larger packages and forwarded. Act at once and don't wait for any body else to begin. What one person may give, may save the life of a soldier.

Uncle Sain's Mule.

BY A "NEW RECRUIT" IN THE LETE WISCONSIN BATTERY. In a muddy ditch by a deep moraes, A government mule lay breathing his last, With harness all grared, and walting for douth-The grim driver's summons to pull his last breath.

A right hearty chap he was when he was enlisted; And took his scant rations of hay unassisted-And his body, by welting, was red, white and blue.

At evening of 't times, his day's labor ever, Would be pensively dream of his mule age of clover, But his sweat the'ts would grow sour and ancandled. When he gazed on his end, and the "U. S." there

O: Abe, why did you allow the contractor

To disagure me thue; like a base malefactor. You nail me for life -" I dont see it"-talut fair-The compact was "three years or during the war."

Yon've "throwed" me, Abe; I'm gone up the spout, I get nary furlough, and hounty's "played out;" Promotion's uncertain-I work for no pay;

Aint this patriotic? Pray tell me, I brav! But now all his sighs and complainings are o'er. And the lash of the driver shall goad him no more, For he's " passid in his checks," has finished his work Has pulled his last load of shingles and pork.

There is none who will miss his elongated face, Another is ready to pull in his place, The train will move on, and the soldiers be fed. And no tears for the government mule that is dead!

Ah! my "boid soler boy!" the' thy hard bread is tougb, Thy "sow beliey" worse, and "shoulder straps" rough,

Take this sweet consolation, and dont feel so cruel— For the' both are high privates, you outragk the mu-el.
